

There is HOPE for students who struggle with learning. We can HELP!

TRANSFORMING STRUGGLING STUDENTS INTO SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS THROUGH OUR UNIQUE
THERAPEUTIC APPROACH TO SOLVING LEARNING DISABILITIES.

Essential Learning Institute's LDHope program offers a unique and effective therapy for students with learning struggles. We have found that many other learning disability programs focus on reading remediation, tutoring, or training. This is where we are different. LDHope identifies the root cause of learning issues, then strengthens weak areas, thus training the brain to integrate new information.

“ At LDHope we have been solving learning problems since 1993. Thousands of students from around the world have used our program to find learning success. ”

After completing this nine-month therapy program with my students, I can say LDHope is the most effective, fastest program for students who struggle with learning disabilities that I have ever seen. The results are permanent. - Principal, PA

I wish we would have found this program earlier. - Ruth, parent.

How we Evaluate and Correct Learning Deficiencies

GET TO THE ROOT OF THE PROBLEM

Q: What is the Learning Assessment?

A: The Learning Assessment is an inexpensive tool that is more than just an academic test. It shows you what happens to the information the student reads, hears, or sees. Stressed on time? The assessment takes 90 minutes or less to complete.

MORE ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Q: How does the program work?

A: LDHope's educational therapy program uses a series of neurological exercises that interlink the visual, auditory, and motor pathways in the brain in order to aid in the implanting of information. This unique approach is computer based, so students can do the exercises in the comfort of home.

LDHope uses a unique therapeutic approach to address learning difficulties by using exercises intended to bring your child to his or her full learning potential.

Improve self-esteem and transform your child into a successful student!

GET STARTED!

Q: What is my first step?

A: The first step is to schedule the evaluation at <http://ldhope.org> from there we will be able to customize your student's program to directly meet their individual needs.

Q: How long does the program last?

A: Typically, a student will go through the program in nine months. During which time we are continuously supporting your child.

Learning Deficiencies and Parental Worry

WORRY AND DISAPPOINTMENT

Parents are often worried and disappointed when their child has learning problems. There are many reasons for school failure, but a common one is a specific learning disability. A child with a learning disability is usually bright and initially tries very hard to follow instructions, concentrate and be good at home and in school. Yet despite this effort he or she is not mastering school tasks and falls behind. Some learning-disabled children also have trouble sitting still or paying attention. Learning disabilities affect as many as 15 percent of otherwise able school children.

SNOWBALL EFFECT

Child and adolescent psychiatrists point out that learning disabilities are treatable, but if not detected and treated early, they can have a tragic snowballing effect.

For instance, a child who does not learn addition in elementary school cannot understand algebra in high school. The child, trying very hard to learn, becomes more and more frustrated, and develops emotional problems such as low self-esteem in the face of repeated failure. Some learning-disabled children misbehave in school because they would rather be seen as bad or stupid.

BE AWARE OF COMMON SIGNS OF LEARNING STRUGGLES IN YOUR CHILD

- Has difficulty understanding and following instructions.
- Has trouble remembering what someone just told him or her.
- Fails to master reading, writing, and/or math skills, and thus fails schoolwork.
- Has difficulty distinguishing right from left, for example, confusing 25 with 52, b with d or on with no.
- Lack coordination in walking, sports, or small activities such as holding a pencil or tying a shoelace.
- Easily loses or misplaces homework, schoolbooks or other items.
- Cannot understand the concept of time; is confused by yesterday, today and tomorrow.

There is HOPE we can HELP

It is painful to watch your child struggle in school and not know how to help. Why is learning so hard for my child? What is happening? Words like dyslexia, ADD, ADHD, and learning disability float through your mind. What is going on? How can I find out?

We have a solution we will help you understand what is going on in your child's mind when attempting to learn. We have helped thousands and will help you.

Our inexpensive learning assessment is not a battery of tests designed to place a lifetime label on your child. A label will not tell you what areas of learning are not working correctly. You need to know what is happening and how information is being processed, so you know how to help your child.

More than just an academic assessment we will show you what happens to the information your child reads, hears or sees. Where does it go? What is he or she doing with it? How can we help improve memory recall?

A 90-minute assessment in the privacy of your home provides answers to help put your child on the path to success.

How does it work? The evaluation measures multiple areas of language skills to get a clear understanding of your child's ability to understand words, word structure reading, comprehension, phonics and spelling skills to name a few. The evaluation focuses on how your child's brain processes information and assesses their ability to fully process the information they receive, or where it gets lost along the way.

When we know how your student processes information, where it is going and where he or she is losing the information, we can help address processing weaknesses. This in turn will help your student properly sequence thoughts and information which increases success in school, at work and in life.

When you and your child understand what is happening and how to correct it, HOPE rises, and true help and healing can begin!
